GOING DUTCH: EXPLORING

The Netherlands

APRIL 30 - MAY 12, 2022

Pub Culture Beercations is proud to present our latest beercation into the world of Dutch craft beer with “Going Dutch - Beer in the Netherlands” April 30-May 12, 2022. We invite you to join award-winning beer and travel writer and global expert on Dutch beer culture, Tim Skelton, and Pub Culture Beercation’s owner, guide, and almost honorary Dutchie, Chris Bettini, for a 12-night tour exploring Beers in the Netherlands!

When embarking on our “Going Dutch” beercation you will not only visit some of the best craft breweries, taprooms, pubs, and cafés in the Netherlands, you will also experience food and beer pairings, beer tastings, and several pub crawls, all based on information found in Tim’s books!

While this is a beercation, we do not just drink beer all day. “Going Dutch” with Pub Culture Beercations allows you to take in some “touristy” things as well as cultural and historical locations around the Netherlands. During our tour we will visit the spring bulb fields and famous Keukenhof gardens, the windmills of the Kinderdijk, a Dutch cheese farm, a traditional clog maker, locations important to the Pilgrims after leaving England for the “New World”, and WWII locations important to the ill-fated Operation Market Garden made famous in the movie “A Bridge Too Far”.

This is a group tour, but Pub Culture Beercations plans our itineraries with plenty of free time for you enjoy activities on your own in the various towns and cities we visit that may be on your bucket list. Discover amazing museums, book personal private guided tours, make reservations at signature restaurants, or search out those small cafes and neighborhood bars to mingle with the locals. We want you to be able to take in the full Pub Culture Beercation experience, “exploring the world one pint at a time”!

You may be wondering why you should choose to take a beercation to the Netherlands with award-winning author Tim Skelton and Pub Culture Beerocations' Chris Bettini... But we think you should be asking yourself, "Why shouldn't I be 'Going Dutch' with Tim and Chris"?!

Firstly, you'll be beercationing with Tim Skelton, a British-born Dutchman who has been based in the Netherlands since 1989, having spent more than three decades studying local Dutch life through the bottom of a glass.

He may not remember who it was that prised the pils from his hand and replaced it with a Duvel that first weekend, but he has been extremely grateful ever since!

Tim is a member of the British Guild of Beer Writers and has written 4 books about Dutch beer. He has 2 volumes of "Beer in the Netherlands" - the world's only comprehensive guide to the new Dutch beer scene - and 2 volumes of "Around Amsterdam in 80 Beers".

His wife Amanda shares Tim's beery passion and has been a willing companion and accomplice in his years of arduous research, and she will also be joining us on the tour.

Tim and Amanda have been meeting up with Chris since 2015, several years before there was a Pub Culture Beerocations, as Chris' desire to dive deeper into the Dutch beer scene kept him purchasing books from Tim.

Since the creation of Pub Culture Beerocations, Tim and Amanda have joined two previous "Going Dutch" tours as special "celebeerty" guests for an evening to share more about beer in the Netherlands with tour-goers... and now they want you to explore the Dutch beer scene with them and Pub Culture Beerocations!

And then there's Pub Culture Beercations' Chris Bettini...

From Omaha, Nebraska in the United States, Chris was dubbed Omaha's 'beer god' by the Omaha World-Herald in 2009 and has worked in Omaha's craft beer since 2006. When not leading beercations, Chris can be found 'beertending' at Omaha's original ale house and one of the United States Top 100 Beer Bars in America - according to Draft Magazine - the Crescent Moon Ale House.

Having been part of the Omaha beer scene for over a decade and a half, Chris' love for searching out amazing craft beer and the culture surrounding this fermented libation has become a way of life for him. These searches have led to him on countless travels, including 27 trips to Europe since 2008!

Chris' beerventures have taken him to over 950 breweries and countless craft beer bars across 14 countries the past 13 years, and many of those beery destinations led to friendships and contacts across the beer-world that help him make a Pub Culture tour unique.

Pub Culture Beercation tours not only showcase and spotlight some more famous and well-known locations every traveler wants to see, but also take you off the beaten path to search out those local favorite spots, with locations often overlooked by larger, more expensive, tour groups and companies.

Chris and Tim hope you will join them, and Pub Culture Beercations, for a trip you will be talking about with friends, over pints, for years - one that promises plenty of Dutch culture and stunning sightseeing locations, with camaraderie, laughter, and of course, plenty of amazing Dutch craft beers along the way!
